INT. AT HOME - EVENING

FADE IN:

Little Red Riding Hood, 16, size 8 blonde hair, dolled up in make up and tarty clothes.

LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD
That's me on my way to Granny's house Mum.

JANETTE (O/S)
OK.

EXT. OUTSIDE - EVENING

Little Red Riding Hood walks away to the bus stop passing through the village on her way out. Unknown she'd been followed to the end of the village by a fox.

She see's the bus and runs on to it taking notice of the fox looking at it.

EXT. GRANNY'S FRONT DOOR - LATER

Little Red Riding Hood buzzes on Granny's intercom.

GRANNY (O/C)
Hello.

LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD
It's me Granny.

GRANNY (O/C)
OK, I'll let you in.

Granny answers the door.

Granny, 66, woolen jumper.

Granny walks through to the kitchen.

Little Red Riding Hood sits down.

LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD
Jesus Christ, it's freezing in here.

GRANNY
Well my heating is out and I'm here 24/7.

LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD
Sorry. Hey, fancy coming up to ours then. Perfect eh?

GRANNY
Well it would be, you do come from a snotty area.

LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD
Hmph. Suit yourself.

GRANNY
On second thoughts I will come.
After we've had these cups of tea.

They drink up and get down the road.

EXT. OUTSIDE VILLAGE - LATER

Little Red Riding Hood and her Granny have just got off the bus to go to Little Red Riding Hoods house.

They see that fox that followed her sitting down patiently waiting.

LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD
Granny, that is that fox that followed me on the way to the bus stop earlier.

They make their way up the road and it is as if they are following the fox. The fox goes behind a tree, Little Red Riding Hood follows it Granny stops and waits, hears a big scream and gets frightened. She looks behind the tree to see a dead corpse of Little Red Riding Hood.
